Prasetyo, Budi. 2014. Improving Students' Simple Past Tense Proficiency in Writing a Narrative Text by Implementing Deductive Approach in SMA Pangudi Luhur Yogyakarta. Yogyakarta: English Language Education Study Program, Sanata Dharma University.

Grammar plays an essential role in language learning, especially in English for Foreign Language. Simple past tense is one of grammar materials given for senior high school students. By knowing and mastering simple past tense, the students will be able to understand narrative texts which are one of the texts taught in XI grade of senior high school. Based on the preliminary study conducted by the researcher, the students of XI IPS 2 of SMA Pangudi Luhur Yogyakarta had problems dealing with grammar proficiency in writing a narrative text. Based on the students' writing products, the results showed that their writing products contained many grammar errors.

This research is intended to overcome the problem faced by the students of XI IPS 2 of SMA Pangudi Luhur Yogyakarta. The implementation of deductive approach was chosen as the solution considering that deductive approach provided advantages in helping students improve their grammar proficiency of simple past tense. The researcher formulated one question to be answered in this research. The question is how can the implementation of deductive approach improve the grammar proficiency of simple past tense of XI IPS 2 students of SMA Pangudi Luhur Yogyakarta in writing a narrative text?

In this research, the researcher implemented Classroom Action Research (CAR) to solve the problem. The participants of this research were 29 students of XI IPS 2 of SMA Pangudi Luhur Yogyakarta 2012/2013 academic year. There were two cycles in this research. By using five research instruments which were observation checklist; students' reflection; interview; students' writing products; and videotape recorder, the researcher gathered and then analyzed the data of this research.

The results of data analysis showed that the implementation of deductive approach could help the participants improve their grammar proficiency of simple past tense in writing a narrative text. It could be seen from the mean percentage of students' errors in writing a narrative text which was decreasing from the preliminary study (75.10%), the cycle one (45.03%), and the cycle two (25.96%). The implementation of deductive approach helped the students master the grammar rule of simple past tense easily. It helped the students construct their sentences in writing a narrative text accurately. It also helped the students increase their vocabulary in terms of past verbs. Having known the implementation of deductive approach could improve the students' grammar proficiency of simple past tense in writing, the researcher suggested the English teachers implement deductive approach as an alternative in teaching grammar.
